The AeroPro Difference

With so many sources for promotional items these days it is hard to find a source that will focus on your business sector. This is where AeroPro is ahead of the competition, instead of offering items that span across many areas AeroPro focuses on one, the Aviation Industry. Quality, customer satisfaction and honest communication is at the core of our business. And with AeroPro there are no contracts required, your company can buy what they need, when they need it!

Who We Sell To

We accept orders from any company, group, or individual. Airlines, large corporations, airplane model companies and model collectors are welcome! Generally minimum order quantities must be met. Additionally, proof of ownership or the license to reproduce the airline's livery/liveries, trademark(s), design(s), and color(s) must be presented. We fully accept personal designs or artwork with no restrictions other than those designs that we may deem to be trademark or copyright infringement.

Our Aircraft Products

We also supply exciting promotional items related to the airline industry. These products are marketed under the name "Aero le Plane". We have developed plush toys, lanyards, magnets, key chains, temporary tattoos and more! We welcome custom design ideas and can work with you to meet your promotional needs.
